

You are invited to come on Thursday, March 26th 2009, between 10 a.m. – 6 p.m. to Wenceslas square/ Václavské náměstí in Prague (middle part) and...

„TRY A CAGE/ZKUSTE SI KLEC“

At least for a while, you can try how they feel to be shut in a cage. Hens, from which most eggs in shops and processed foods originate, live like this all their life. It is 5 million hens in the Czech Republic, 390 million in the EU (2007).

Say “NO” to eggs from caged hens, join our campaign „Hens Out Of Cages“/„Slepice z klece ven“.

The aim of the campaign is to end keeping hens in all types of cages, to support free range breeding, and clear and not misleading labelling of egg boxes. Our campaign is part of the European campaign “Chickens Out”.

During the event, you can:

- find out how hens are kept in industrial farming,
- to see the real size of a cage for hens,
- take part in the photo-petition „No Cages For Hens“,
- sign the petition,
- find out which artists and other important people support our campaign,
- taste egg-less baked goods,
- children can draw hens and other animals.

You can learn about the award "Dobré vejce"/"Good Egg Award", who was awarded last year in the EU and the Czech Republic, and who is nominated for 2009.

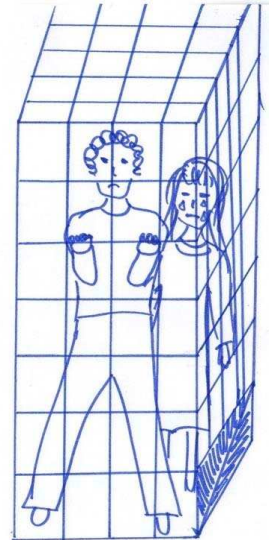

Try the cage and find out, at least for a moment, what feelings can animals experience while imprisoned in cages their whole life - every day, every night, every hour...

We are looking forward to see you.

The team of Společnost pro zvířata – z. o. ČSOP/Society for Animals

Michelská 5, 140 00 Praha 4, Tel: 222 511 494, 603 851 334, in english 603 179 558

Email: s.pro.zvirata@ecn.cz; www.spolecnostprozvirata.cz

Your choice can set them free.